

WHAT'S NEW AT OREGON FLOWERS?

SPECIAL POINTS OF INTEREST:

COMING SOON:

Giant Allium: These jaw dropping flowers are in a category by themselves. With their small purple flowers clumped together like a lollypop, they are not only tall but striking.

Eremurus: Eremurus are desired for their length and stately blooms. These flowers are very distinguishable due to their shape and sheer size.

Bearded Iris: These majestic flowers are a lovely sight of spring! We will begin with a limited color selection and as the season progresses the selection will grow.

MAY 2012

Peonies- Coming Soon!

Peonies are long-lived, perennial flowers that produce large flowers in the spring. Peonies will be available the beginning of May. The season will start with greenhouse peonies. This provides us with a two week head start to the season. At the beginning of the season we will have the early varieties available such as Paula Fay and the very popular Coral Charm and Red Charm. We will then move into the stable standbys, Mons. Jules Elie and Sarah Bernhardt, plus an assortment of new varieties that are up and coming.

Packing:

Peonies are bunched in 10 stems and packed 10 or 20 bunches in a box.

Mothers Day Availability

It seems as though we are always waiting on the weather, especially around Mother's Day. For Mother's Day, we will have a nice variety of product available for shipping. Currently we have Tulips, and French Tulips. We are finishing up with the French Tulips while the Tulips will continue to be available through Mother's day. We have ramped up production on Asiatic Lilies, Oriental lilies and Casablanca, and will do our best to fill orders as requested.

Projections:

Snowball: 1st week of May

Peonies: 2nd week of May

Bearded Iris: 2nd week of May

Tulips: Finishing up after Mother's Day

Martin's Message:

May is always a very busy time of the year for me, with Mother's Day being our biggest flower holiday. The greenhouses are in full production and our field crops are starting up as well.

With all that going on I sometimes forget I am having "FUN".

May is also important now because our Grand Daughter "Kamari" is going to be one year old this month and Opa is already trying to make her "enjoy" flowers.

In the picture you see us "tip toe-ing thru the tulips".

And now back to work!!
