Snowberries in Pink!

Snowberries are unlike any other plant in the world. With their elegant berries and delicate look, the Snowberry has quite an enchanting quality. The small clusters of pink flowers in the spring become pale pink berries in late summer. In this way, they offer great summer and fall interest. The berries just seem to float lightly in the air, all about the plant. This, and their small, scattered leaf pattern, give the plant a low but airy quality. This wonderful airy quality is what they are known for!

Beautiful Snowberries are bunched in 10 stems and packed:

12 bunches in a 36x14x7

25 bunches in a 44x18x9

Hydrangea

It is that time of year again! The beautiful and attention grabbing hydrangeas are available! They have had time to firm up, and are ready to be cut. These striking flowers are available in pink, purple, and a beautiful antique color. Do not expect soft heads with our hydrangeas. In order to achieve the vibrant color and large head size, we give them time to firm up in the fields before we cut them. You will love these bright memorable blooms with strong sturdy stems.

Hydrangeas come in five stem bunches and are packed 12 bunches in a box!

Martin's Message:

In August, our son Tyler Meskers started working at Oregon Flowers, Inc. After Graduating from Oregon State University in 2011 with a degree in Ag-Business, he worked for a year in Holland at Gerbr. Vletter en den Haan (www.vletterdenhaan.nl), in the lily industry.

I (we) are very excited to have Tyler working in the family business. His drive and enthusiasm is much appreciated, and is needed to be a successful flower grower now and in the future.

Tyler will be working primarily in growing of the lilies, tulips, and callas. His interest and focus will be on obtaining new and better varieties of all types of flowers.

Welcome back Tyler, and good luck!

Martin
